

Join Core Consulting

Who We Are?

Core Consulting is an established AIOps consulting firm that focuses on optimising today's IT. Leveraging on the latest technology including AI-powered observability and data analytics platform, automation solution, we help major organisations in South East Asia from various industries including banking, insurance, government agencies, telcos, education, and other corporates to improve their IT Operations and Observability as well as their overall business productivity.

In Core Consulting, we continuously develop and invest in our people to build a great firm where everyone can make an impact, and enabling them to achieve their personal and professional goals.

Growing Your Career

Start your career as AIOps Intern in Core Consulting, we will work closely with you in shaping your career path and open the doors of possibilities that fulfill your personal and professional aspirations.  Chance to secure a full-time position after internship completion. **

Job Description

- Involve in R&D efforts and real-world AIOps consultancy projects.
- Support the end-to-end IT project lifecycle
- Opportunities to deal with clients from different industries to understand real-world IT challenges.
- Build and enhance operational frameworks to streamline IT operations.
- Involve in observability tasks such as system monitoring, performance reporting, root cause analysis, and continuous improvement initiatives.

Requirements

- Computer Science, Information Technology, Electrical and Electronic Engineering, Computer Engineering, and other IT related fields.
- CGPA of 3.0 and above.

Join Us

If you love challenges and would like to make an impact on people's lives, join us.

Interested applicants are invited to send us your resume, careers@coreconsulting.asia

Know more about us on www.coreconsulting.asia